LEE RAILS UNDER WATER ON THE WAY TO SHELTER INLAND.

A Rule-o'-Thumb Sloop Led the Procession to New London-Hard Luck for Some-The Atlantic Club's Interesting Cruise, NEW LONDON, July 20 .- The main portion of the Atlantic Yacht Club squadron arrived at this place this morning after a tedious night in calms and light winds. Six hours of good luck and a dozen of extremely hard luck attended the fleet in their forty-mile race from Morris Cove. From New Haven lighthouse to Cornfield lightship the fleet thrashed to windward for six hours in a spanking breeze from the eastward, that brought out the best sailing points in many of the yachts and gave results that surprised their owners. The start from Morris Cove was a fine one. assing into the Sound through the narrow channel between New Haven lighthouse and the breakwater, the fleet, under all sail, made a handsome picture. The little sloop Volusia was first out, with Daisy next, then the Rival, Leona, Panita, Enterprise, Rover, and Gevalia, with the new Anaconda luffing out across her stern. The Onward, Haze, Stella, Thistle, Hil-degarde, Adelaide, and the others came along within ten minutes. The performance of Mr. Hatch's pretty sloop Fanita during the first four hours was phenomenal. In just fifteen minutes from gun fire, she had walked through the lee of the leaders and taken first place, but at 8:53 the Anneonda tacked to port, and three 8:53 the Anaconda tacked to port, and three minutes later crossed the Fanita's stern close aboard. The Hildegarde, too, had been doing some splendid work. When she tacked off shore at 9:48 she had placed the Thistie half a mile in her wake. The breeze had now freshened so that all hands were going "scuppers to" and making fast time. All the shoops worked a long leg and a short one along the shore, while the schooners stood on a long stretch to the southward and came up the middle of the Sound. Faulkner's Island bore north-northeast from the Fanita at 11:25. The Hildegarde was the leafer, with Fanita next and Anaconda third. For an hour the latter yacht tried to pass the Fanita, but she did not catch her until later. Nothing was seen of the schooners till noon, when the Magic came across the Sound from the Long Island shore. She crossed the Fanita's wake at 12:20 about 3 miles away. The next schooner was hull down to leeward. When the Fanita went about at 12:29 Hooton's Point light bore southeast by east 3's miles and Faulkner's Island northwest by north 10'4. "Good-by" shouted a guest of Mr. Prague, the Anaconda's owner, as she and the Fanita split tacks at 12:39. His words had more significance than the Fanita's sailors knew of, for, by taking advantage of a series of lucky breezes, the Anaconda reached New London hours ahead of the Fanita, while the Adelaide. Athlon, Magic, Roamer, Hildegarde, and Thistie, all holding the same breeze under the Long Island shore, ran almost to the entrance of the harbor, while the Rover. Fanita, Nirvana, Haze, Gevalla, and others were lying becalmed and drifting back to the westward with the flood tide. The Fanita passed Cornfield light. minutes later crossed the Fanita's stern close Haze, Govalia, and others were lying becalmed and drifting back to the westward with the flood tide. The Fanita passed Cornfield lightship close aboard at 2 o'clock, and at 4 she ran into a calm, which lasted for five hours. When the ebb tide made she and the Rover worked up with a light breeze to New London lighthouse, anchoring at 2 this morning. This was the order of arrival at New London, with the actual time made Tuesday:

Sheller Island, July 20.—No prettler or more exciting yacht race has been sailed this year than that of the Atlantic Club squadron in their 25-mile race to-day, from New London to this place, for prizes offered by the club. Out of the southward, at 9 o'clock, came a spanking broeze that gladdened the hearts of the yachtsmen and made the reof points rattle on the yachtsmen and made the reof points rattle on the yachtsmen and made the reof points rattle on the yachtsmen and made the reof points rattle on the yachtsmen for the reof points rattle on the yachtsmen for the Regatta Committee, acting as judge, gave orders for the fleet to start at 12 o'clock from Fort Griswold Hotel pier, but it was fifteen minutes after that time when the preparatory signal was given. Most of the fleet were then manœuvring for good positions. The start was a grand marine spectacle. Every yacht as she crossed the line fired a gun, and each gun was promotly answered by the hotel people, while hundreds on the shore waved an adieu. The sloop Fanny got away first at 12:20:30, with the Mischief. Azalea, Thistle, and Hildegarde following, and all on the port tack. The others came across two and three at a time. With all the wind they wanted to swing jobtopsails to, the chass began. The Fanny soon began to leave the Mischief, and when both were off Sarah's Ledge and a luffing match was indulged in, the Fanny came out ahead. Bartlett's Reef lightship was passed by the leaders at 1 o'clock. Sheets were then started, and under perfect clouds of canvas the schooners Phantom and Magic came tearing along to the southward. The Fanita was the leader in her class from the first, and behind her at 1:05 the big sloop Atlantic and the Magic had a luffing match. The Atlantic got the best of it after a tussle, Ahead the Hildegarde was a grand one. All were carrying balloon jibs when they struck the "tide rips of the sloops were split, and the way the Atlantic, Magic, Anaconda, and Fanita walked ahead of the yachts in their classes was a sight worth seeing. The Azalca snapped her foretopmast off about three feet from the cap, and the Roamer lost her spinnaker boom. The yachts were received with cheers and guns from the Manhansett and Prospect House as they came into Deering's harbor.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

John H. Draper & Co.'s Embarrassme

A rumor was afloat down town yesterday that John H. Draper & Co. had failed. It wasn't true. Inquiry revealed the fact, however, that the firm had been in financial straits for some weeks, John H. Draper, the well-known auctioneer, is head of the firm, and George T. Kellock is his partner. The house was one of the ploneers in the auction business, having been founded in 1864 by the late Simeon Draper. It has had charge of very many celebrated auction sales.

Mr. Draper was sick in bed yesterday at his nome, 17 East Forty-second street, and his doctor forbade his seeing any callers. At the store at 87 Front street Mr. Kellock said that he hoped the trouble of the firm would be only temporary. He said that Mr. Draper had been endeavoring to make an amicable arrange-ment with his creditors, and hoped to be able to secure an extension of time that would en-able him to tide over the embarrassment. He added that Mr. Draper had not made an as-added that Mr. Draper had not made an assignment.

The present difficulty, Mr. Kellock explained, was attributable to the fact that the business of the firm has been steadily shrinking for four years past. At one time the firm's commissions amounted to from $50,000 to $75,000 a year. Its business in tea sales alon yielded it nearly $40,000 a year. The tea sales had been transferred to other hands and the general auction business yielded but little profit during the last year or two. All this while the expense of maintaining the big Front street eatablishment, a five-story double building, kept eating into the resources. Mr. Kellock said that he could not tell the amount of the firm's liabilities, but it is not believed that they are very large.

that he could not tell the amount of the firm's liabilities, but it is not believed that they are very large.

Orlando B. Hastings, doing business as Hastings & Todd, dealers in cardboard, at 26 Beekman street, made an assignment yesterday to Frederick C. Lounsbury. Twenty-six preferences were given, aggregating $21,707, the largest being to the Rochester Paper Company on four notes discounted for Mr. Hastings. The five largest preferences are to be paid in full, and the other twenty-one, aggregating $10,184, will be paid in part, as, under the new assignment law relating to preferences, the assets will not warrant payment in full. The business was established in October, 1882, as Hastings, Todd & Schauck, and was succeeded in 1883 by Hastings & Todd. Mr. Todd withdrew on April 1,1886, Mr. Hastings said yesterday that the assignment was caused by the failure of the Hurlburt Paper Company of South Lee, Mass., to which he had given accommodation paper. He thought the assets would amount to $60,000, and in the trade the liabilities are reported at $75,000 to $100,000.

The schedule of assets and liabilities of J. M. Edwards & Co., the coffee brokers of 109 Water street, who were swamped in the recent sensational break in the market, and who assigned to Thomas J. Over $70,000 of the assets consists of cash in the Bank of America.

DR. M'GLYNN'S SCHOOLS TO GO.

Turned into a Parochial School. It was admitted by the Sisters at St. Stephen's Home for Orphans and Homeless Children in East Twenty-eighth street last night that the institution was soon to become a parochial school. The home was founded by Dr. McGlynn to provide for the poor children of the parish, contrary to the wishes of the Church authorities, who wanted him to build a parochial school.

Though the priests of the parish refuse to say what their present plans are, it is understood by the parishioners that a vigorous financial policy has been adopted in the hope of paying off a part of the church debt. It is said that the New Dorp, Staten Island, home, also founded by Dr. McGlynn for poor children, has already been broken up and will soon be sold.

According to the financial statement made by Dr. McGlynn, Dec. 31, 1886, after his suspension, the debt of the church is $127,185. The Seammi's Bank holds a mortgage for $110,000 on the church and pastoral residence. The St. Stephen's Home property in East Twenty-eighth street is mortgaged for $25,000 and valued at $60,000; the twenty-three acres at New Dorp, mortgaged for $12,000, are valued at $30,000, and twenty-one lots in Fordham, also owned by the church are mortgaged for $5,500 and valued at $15,000. If the New Dorp and Fordham property is sold, the parochial school can be established and the debt materially reduced. stood by the parishioners that a vigorous finan-

The shirt makers who were locked out of the dolph's Utah House, Twenty-fifth street and Eighth avenue, J. J. McKenna of the Executive Board of Dis-trict Assembly 40, to which the shirt makers belong, was in attendance. The locked out employees consist of 225 in attendance. The locked out employees consist of 225 girls and 7 men. They resolved not to return to work unless Superintendent Schantz. Assistant Superintendent Miller, and Edward Felrec, the obnoxious forman, are discharged. They said that their trouble with Superintendent. Schantz began on July 1, when he lowered the price for making a dozen shirts to $1.10, thereby reducing the wages of the girls to from $3 to $84 week. They complained, and on Monday Superintendent Schantz notified the operatives that he no longer had use for their services. The girls who were at work on expensive shirts asked permission to finish their laundry work before leaving, but they say they were not permitted to do so.

Labor and Wages.

The Massachusetts Board of Arbitration has invited the shoe manufacturers and lasters of Beverly to send committees to meet the Board to-morrow for the purpose of arbitrating their difficulties. Forty strikers at the Mammoth Coke Works, Greens burgh, Pa., yesterday drove off the Sherift and his deputies and forced fifteen men to quit work. Three non-union men were severely beaten. The Sheriff has called on the Governor for militia to protect the men as he says his force is inadequate. The strikers are ugly, and the impression is that the strike is very far from and the impression is that the strict of the second of the manufacturers oppose the demand on the ground that prices are lower than they have been for nine years. It is thought the dispute will be amicably settled.

Five hundred employees of the Lichfield, Ill., Car and Machine Works struck on Tuesday for a fortnightly instead of a monthly pay day.

Competition Among Army Marksmen.

Under Gen. Sheridan's recent order, the first annual competition of the best marksmen in the army will be held at Bellevue ride range, near Omaha, on Sept. 18, next. Gen. Schofield said yesterday that this was something new, and something which would be of de-cided interest to all persons who were interested in fine marksmanshlp. The men who are to contest are from all branches of the service, and are men whose skill has debarred them from the other contests for medals which are held in the army, one every year and snother every two years. The competitors will be from every depart-ney and every division, and they will be selected by the department commanders.

The Money Lender Will Have His Duc. Isane L. Devoe of Baxter street was before the Park Board yesterday complaining against a dozen park keepers whose acknowledgments of debt he held, but who, he affirmed, would not pay him. It came out but who, he ammed, would not pay nim. It came out that Devoe had been shaving the pay of the keepers by advancing them money at about 150 per cent per annum interest. President Borden told him that his practice was in violation of the rules of the department, and it would serve him right if he lost every cent. As another rule, however, forbid men who refused to pay their debts from remaining in the empioy of the department, the keepers would have to pay Mr. Devoe or resign.

Combining Against Non-union Butchers. Butchers in the employ of Timothy C. East-Butchers in the employ of Timothy C. East-man, foot of Fifty ninth street, North River, and Stern & Co., Forty-eighth street and North River, have been out on strike for the past week because of the employ-ment of non-union men. The flutchers Unions yester day asked the Retail Butchers Union not to purchase ment slaughtered by Eastman or Sterns and a great many of them said they would not. It is said Eastman has threatened to establish retail butcher shops of his own.

A Newly Proposed Rapid Transit Route. At the meeting of the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners yesterday, Mr. Goddard, representing the New York Central Underground Company, submitted a plan for a route which starts from Park row and Broadway, runs along Park row to New Ellm street, along New Ellm to Marion, and Marion to Prince, where it joins the projected line already granted by charter to the underground company it is to be a four-track road, of twelve feet excavation, with electric motors.

In a few min-utes he was surrounded by the females who make that street their promenade. He arrested two white and twe colored girls who were fined $10 apiece in Jefferson Market Court this mercing.

The Fire Commissioners yesterday gave Fireman Dennis of Engine 43 permission to accept a silver medal from the Life Saving Benevolent Society for his eroism in rescuing Nathan Harris, aged 7, of 160 Mon roe wiret. from drowning at the foot of Clinton street on May 30. VICTORY FOR NEW YORK AND CHICAGO

The Indians Whip St. Louis, and Brocklyn
Dors the Same for Louisville—A Neckand-seck Hace in the League.

The Detroit Club has been making a hard ight to hold its own, but with little success, while the Chicagos are creeping up on them surely. The closeness of the first five clubs is remarkable, as the fifth club is less than .150 per cent, behind the first one. The friends of the Chicago team are filled with joy, and say:
"It is only a matter of a few days before we get there." This is by no means sure, as the Bostons are likely to overtake the champions. As for the Detroits, they have not long to stay in the East, and they may pick up again after they get home. In yesterday's games the winning clubs were: League-Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, and Washington. Association-Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Athletic, and Metropolitan, The record now stands:

Tim Keefe proved a wall of stone in front of the Indianapolis Club yesterday, and he re-tired them with only four clean flits. The inability of the visitors to bat and their loose work in the field at times helped the New work in the field at times helped the New Yorks toward an easy victory. The home team did fairly well with the bat, but they did not do much in bunching their hits. Deasley caught in fine form, while the general work of the New Yorks infield was the feature. It was not until the New Yorks had got around to their half of the fourth inning that the run getting began. Up to this point the work on either side had been sharp. Glasscock seemed to grow faint when Slugger Tiernan rolled the ball down his way, and he proceeded to fumble it. Gore also hit a grounder to the great short stop, who pieked up the ball and threw it over Shomberg's head, and letting Gore go to second. In the mean time Tiernan had stolen second, and scored on the error. An error by Denny moved Gore around to third. Gillespie hit a slow ball to Shomberg, who took a player's chance to put Gore out, he having started in on the play, but the throw was a poor one, and both Gore and Gillespie were safe. The long left fielder then stole second, went to third on a passed ball, and scored on Bassett's mult of Richardson's fly, Richardson successfully stole second and third, and then Tom Deasley brought him home with a hit. Tom went to second on the ball being fielded to the plate, and a hit by Keefe and Ewing's fly out brought Tom home. In the following inning a two-base hit by Connor and a single by Tiernan gave the sixth run for the New Yorks.

When the last inning opponed it looked very much as though the visitors would not get a run. They did, however, and Glasscock was the first to start the run getting for the visitors, as well as for the home team. He banged the ball for two bags and stole third soon after Seery had been sent to first on balls. Then Seery stole second. NETHOPOLITAN, 10; Mr. LOUIS, 0.

The Indians have broken their season's record by winning three straight games. Few persons remember when the Metropolitans made a record like this. It was not luck either, but good solid ball playing, brought about by a level-headed manager and a live captain. In yesterday's game the Indians had the St. Louis champions as opponents. It there is one club outside of Brooking that the Indians can beat it is the St. Louis team. As usual, they went into this game with great condence, they placed their hits just where they did the greatest amount of good and where they tood in the result. The fielding honors were even, but the errors of the visitors were more constly. The home club hit Fout hard at times, while the visitors did little with the curves of young Mays. However, the ending the the visitors were more constly. The home club hit Fout hard at times, while the visitors did little with the curves of young Mays. However, the end of the work of the left feel feene, but only succeeded in getting a home run. The visitors ran lie bases well when they good on them. The Metropolitans showed good team work, and all played to win. Orr did much better than on the day before, while the good base running and timely batting of Jones helped the Indians wonderfully. CHIPS FROM THE DIANOND.
O'Brien makes a fine captain, and is doing fine work.

The Cuban Giants have played 103 games, winning 74 sing 26, and 3 ties. The fine work by Gerhardt in the game yesterday showed that he had recovered from his recent injuries. Manager Mutrie has been in Connecticut for a day or two looking for a pitcher, but has so far falled to engage one.

It is very probable that Burch will be released by the Brooklyn Ulub. Rochester would like to secure Henderson, and it is likely they will get him.

Burke, the new pitcher of the Detroits, made his first appearance yesterday, but he hardly proved a success. His fielding was very slow and clumsy, and he uses little headwork.

But few base ball managers are as superstitions as Manager Cayler. The other day he found an empty bottle in the press box, condemned it as a hoodoo, and kicked it out. Of course the Indians won. In the second inning of the game at Washington yes terday, when Whitney stepped to the plate he was pre-sented with a beautiful set ring on behalf of a coterie of admirers who were seated in the grand stand.

Helen Dauvray writes The Sus to say that there is no foundation for the rumor that she has withdrawn the cup which she offered as a prize for the club that should win the championship. She has added to the cup, which will be held by the President of the club winning it, an emblematic bauge for each member of the club that shall win it for the first time, and also a similar badge for each member of the club that shall win it for the first time, and also a similar badge for each member of the club that shall win the cup for the third and last time.

But he is Caught by Capt. McLaughlin Be-fore he Can Get Away-He Keeps the Cash and Gives the Jewels to Women. A well-dressed man with sallow complexion, blue eyes, and dark moustache, and who says his name is Martin Lewis and that he is a diamond broker and dealer in jewelry of 30 West Twenty-sixth street, was arrested by Capt. McLaughlin of the Old slip police at the jewelry store of A. H. Smith, at Broadway and Maiden lane, charged with obtaining jewelry by means of worthless cheeks. Bix complaints against Lewis have been preferred by bankers and jewellers and a stationer at the Old slip police station, and Capt. McLaughlin said last evening that he expected more complaints would be received to-day. For a fortnight or more Lewis has been able to induce bankers and jewellers to take his worthless checks in more Lewis has been able to induce bankers and jewellers to take his worthless checks in exchange for expensive jewelry, and when the check was for more than the price of the valuables Lewis received the balance in cash.

Though Lewis says he is a diamand broker, no one who knew him could be found in Maiden lane yesterday.

Among those whom Lewis has fleeced are the banking firms of Hatch & Foote, at Nassau and Pine streets, and W. T. Hatch & Son, on the opposite side of Nassau street, With Hatch & Foote Lewis deposited a worthless check for $2,500, and he immediately drew out $500 in cash. With W. T. Hatch & Son he deposited a $5,200 worthless check and drew $300 in cash. Lewis's other dealings were with jewellers, James M. Bloomfield, jeweller, of 23 John street complained on Friday that Lewis bought from him on July 6 a ring set with diamonds and emeraids for $120, and gave a worthless check on a Boston bank. He received $180 in cash and the ring for the worthless check.

Capt. McLaughlin notified all the down-town jewellers to look out for a man of Lewis's appearance, and Lewis's arrest yesterday was the result. Lewis wanted to buy a $300 diamond ring, and Mr. Smith, recognizing him, detained him in conversation until Capt. McLaughlin arrived in response to a telephone call. In Lewis's pockets were several check blanks, and also an address of a woman. Capt. McLaughlin tocked up Lewis and went to the woman's house. She expressed surprise at the arrest of Lewis, and promptly gave to Capt. McLaughlin the ring Lewis had bought at Bloomfield's store.

Arrest of Lewis, and promptly gave to Capt. McLaughlin the ring Lewis had bought at Bloomfield's store.

Justice Reily at the Tombs Police Court complimented Capt. McLaughlin, and remanded Lewis to the Old slip police station for further developments.

These are the additional complaints filed yesterday against Lewis in the police station: By E. S. Johnson & Co., 26 Maiden lane, for giving a worthless check for $25 worth of jewirg a worthless check for $25 worth of jewirg a worthless check on July 18 for a pair of diamend earrings worth $220; the earrings were pawned at Simpson's for $79. By Howard & Co., Twenty-ninth street and Fifth avenue, for buying a gold watch for $70 and giving a worthless check for $500 in payment and getting the rest in cash. By Henry Miller, stationer, 29 Massan street, for buying a worthless check for $20 in payment, and receiving the remainder in money.

Lewis's profits, so far as heard from, are $1,525.

WEDNESDAY, July 20. There was very little market on the Stock Exchange to-day. The opening was at full figures in response to a fair market for American securities in London, and also because there were some foreign buying orders here. After these had been executed the dulness became intense, and there was practically a cessation of trading until the last thirty or forty minutes The only movement that attracted any attention was in Western Union. At about the de-livery hour the traders sold that stock quite freely, depressing the price nearly 1 $\mathbb{P}$ cent. There was no recovery to speak of until just at the close, when the price was rushed up 1 7 cent. to the best figures of the day. The first movement appeared to be due very largely to vigorous bidding by one trader and nervous covering by others. Some efforts were made to attach importance to the movement as being of the nature of a scoop to acquire stock. Another and quite as reasonable a view is that the bidding up at the close was to establish a basis to sell from.

The street heard a little more about the Bal-The street heard a little more about the Battimore and Ohio negotiations to-day, and the drift of the reports was to the effect that nothing definite is likely to be done in the matter at present. It is understood that this condition of affairs is due to the fact that the would-be buyers of the Baltimore and Ohio outfit have been unable to complete their own arrangements and have also failed to drum up customers for Mr. Garrett's property, while that gentleman, having succeeded in placing his personal affairs in a somewhat better condition, is more bent upon taking a trip to Europe than upon selling his inheritance.

Of the market outside of Western Union very little need be said. There was a fair volume of business in Reading, St. Paul, and New England, while Louisville and Nashville distinguished itself by scoring the intgest net advance—it be cent. The final movement in Western Union stiffened the entire list, so that the closing was firm at fractionally higher prices than ruled at the close yesterday.

The most discouraging feature of the market is its continued dulness. This is due not altogether to a lack of interest in speculation, but timore and Ohio negotiations to-day, and the largely to the uncertain feeling that has been created by the constant magnifying of the Baltimore and Ohio matter. Those who favor the short side of the market are deterred from selling, fearing that the deal may be announced at any time, while would-be buyers of stocks are equally cautious, fearing that nothing may be accomplished or that the market may be smashed in anticipation of favorable results from the negotiations.

In the Unlisted Department there was also a very light business. Cotton Oil Trusts sold at 37% to 36%. East and West of Alabama at 31% to 32%, and Sutro Tunnel at 40 to 39.
